Master of Science in Global Operations and Supply Chain Management (MS)

MS

GLOBAL OPERATIONS AND SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

The “Master of Science in Global Operations and Supply Chain Management” degree program adopts a systems approach to provide students the knowledge and skills needed for a career in supply chain management. The degree program empowers students to study on design and management of industrial supply chains, including how to improve operations and how to resolve related key issues. IICSE University's GOSCM graduates use their systematic decision-making skills and highly-developed knowledge to address supply chain concerns that arise as operations become increasingly more complicated.

The curriculum adopts an interdisciplinary focus and puts together concepts from industrial marketing, global operations management, and information systems.

The degree program provides specialized knowledge to recognize multicultural perspectives and unravel global operations challenges; and prepares students to design and manage supply chains in manufacturing and service industries. Students study to gain real-world perspective and field-specific knowledge with the available study materials in supply chain management and related areas.
